DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-5, 12, 15, 16, 20-25, 27, 40, 41 and 43-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Turney et al (Turney).

Turney's Fig. 6 clearly shows a microprocessor structure (inverse discrete wavelet packet) for performing a discrete wavelet transform having a number of processing stages (stages 1-3) corresponding to decomposition levels wherein the number of basic processing elements (the unlabeled blocks within the stages) in each processing stage decreases by a constant factor (e.g. 2) at each increasing decomposition level. Relative to the dependent claims note the routing of the input samples to stage 1 of Fig. 6, the core processor of Fig. 2 and the second microprocessor of Fig. 4A.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 15, 44 and 45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 15 the high-pass and low-pass filtering operations fail to be clearly related to the basis processing elements of claim 1. Claim 44 is clearly indefinite because the steps that constitute the method are totally lacking. In claim 45 the "core processing unit" fails to be clearly related to the basic processing elements of claim 1.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 6-11, 13, 14, 17-19, 26, 28-39 and 42 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to David H. Malzahn whose telephone number is (703) 305-9762. The examiner can normally be reached on M-Th from 7:30 to 6:00.
